The front entrance to Alameda High School presents an impressive sight as one looks west on Central Avenue.

Alameda's new swim center, opened in the Spring semester, is a laudable addition to the extensive educational plant.

DEDICATION

In recognition of his outstanding professional leadership, the student body of Alameda High School respectfully dedicates the 1956 Acorn to our Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Donald M. Roderick.

Prior to coming to Alameda, Dr. Roderick served as a teacher in the elementary and high schools in Oroville, California. During the past nineteen years he has served the schools of Alameda as a teacher in the Alameda High School, as an elementary vice-principal, as principal of the Adult School, and for eight years as assistant superintendent. He was appointed to the position of superintendent beginning September, 1952.

His abiding interest in youth is reflected in the manner in which he has discharged the duties and responsibilities of the office of superintendent.

His scholarly approach to problems in education has been recognized by colleges and universities throughout California. He has conducted courses in education for both Stanford University and San Francisco State College. He has ably represented Alameda in many professional organizations, particularly in the California Association of School Administrators.

Students, parents, and businessmen alike find his door open when problems need to be discussed. Dr. Roderick maintains a constant flow of communication between the office of superintendent and the entire community. This is a reflection of his belief that the public schools belong to the people and should serve the needs of all. It is his aim to have the best possible school system for Alameda.

Board Provides Excellent Opportunities

Dr. Roderick and the Board of Education are dedicated to the task of providing excellent educational opportunities for the students of Alameda. Through their efforts the Alameda school system has maintained a high standing throughout California. Our community can be proud of its schools, and our students can be thankful to the Board of Education for the many educational opportunities provided. Most students never stop to think of the various duties and tasks facing the Board. Planning and predicting the needs of the future is only one of many phases of Board work not known to many students.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

When President Herbert Hoover called the first White House conference on youth, he made the following statement: "We approach all problems of youth with affection. Theirs is the province of joy and good humor. They are the most wholesome part of the race, the sweetest, for they are fresher from the hands of God. Whimsical, ingenious, mischievous, we live a life of apprehension as to what their opinion may be of us; a life of defense against their terrifying energy; we put them to bed with a sense of relief and a lingering devotion. We envy them the freshness of adventure and discovery of life; we mourn over the disappointments they will meet."

The youth of today give me faith in our future. They are well informed and display intelligent judgment. Prejudice is replaced by objective thinking. Deep spiritual consciousness and high moral beliefs are important aspects of their lives. Traditions are sacred. The love and security of home and family are most important even though youth attempts to present a sophisticated exterior. Honesty and sincerity combined with frankness are typical characteristics. They enjoy following fads and wish to be well groomed.

I have faith in youth because they have courage, they have spirit, and they have ability. When a crisis occurs, they assume responsibility and become heroes and leaders.

The world is anxiously waiting for them to unravel the problems that we have been unable to solve.

To Mr. Hallock and Mr. Ellis, faculty advisers, to Marjorie Luther, Editor; Judy Grimshaw, Business Manager, and the entire Acorn staff, I wish to extend my sincere appreciation for the many long hours of planning and work that you have so freely given in order to publish such an outstanding book as the 1956 Acorn.

MR. DONALD J. BELL, Vice-Principal

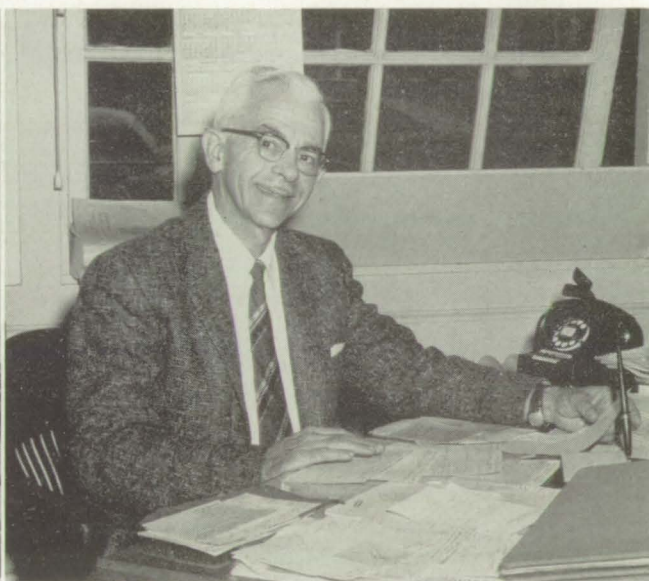

As vice-principal Mr. Bell holds an integral position at A.H.S. It's his job to construct the master program and aid the advisers in programming the entire student body. His interest in the student body and their activities is further shown by the fact that he attends all athletic events and supports our school with enthusiasm. He acts as adviser to student body officers and the Men's Board of Control. Without him our student body would fail to function with maximum efficiency.

Capable Leaders Assist Principal

MRS. HELEN HOEKSEMA, Assistant to the Principal in Charge of Instruction

Never too busy to listen to a problem or give a word of encouragement exemplifies Mrs. Helen Hoeksema, vice principal in charge of instruction. She acts as adviser to the Girls' Association and the Women's Board of Control, is in charge of audio-visual and other instructional materials. Mrs. Hoeksema is always ready with a smile, and her happiness lies in the happiness of those around her.

MR. EARL W. SHRIBER, Assistant to the Principal in Charge of Attendance and Guidance

Keeping track of the absences for the entire student body is a difficult task, but, like everything else he does, Mr. Earl Shriber manages to see that everything is under control. He also is in charge of box office and auditorium staffs and thus helps to make our social events successful. Graduation just couldn't happen without his masterful hand to manage all the intricate details.

COUNSELING DEPARTMENT

Mr. Charles Butler—Swimming, Varsity Football, Counselor 4B, 1A.

Mrs. Charlotte Howell—Senior Problems, Social Studies, Miss Lucille di Vecchio—Social Studies, Counselor 1B, 2A, Counselor 3B, 4A, Ass't Chr. 1B Class.

Miss Frances Shockey—English, Social Studies, Chr. 1B Class, Counselor 2B, 3A.

Mr. Jess Thomas—Psychometrist, Senior Problems, Gov't and Politics, C.S.F. Advisor.

ABSENT FROM PICTURE: Mr. Chester Millett—Job Placement Counselor.

Counselors Offer Valuable Services

Mr. Thomas explains aptitude test results to Mary Sue Sherriff and Lois Allinger.

From her vast stores of information, Mrs. Howell disseminates college information to Judy Barker.

Changing schedules, advising for college, solving problems, finding jobs—these are all part of a day's work for our busy counselors. They are always ready to offer their services to the students in a friendly, helpful way. Their presence is valuable to all students, for they give counsel and guidance not only for the four years of high school but also for the future whether it be finding a job or going to college. An abundance of information characterizes the offices of our counselors. Ask a question and if they don't know the answer, chances are they have a source to recommend.

Mr. Jerome Schneider. Miss Leota Schroeder. Mrs. Courtney Smith—Star & Key Advisor.

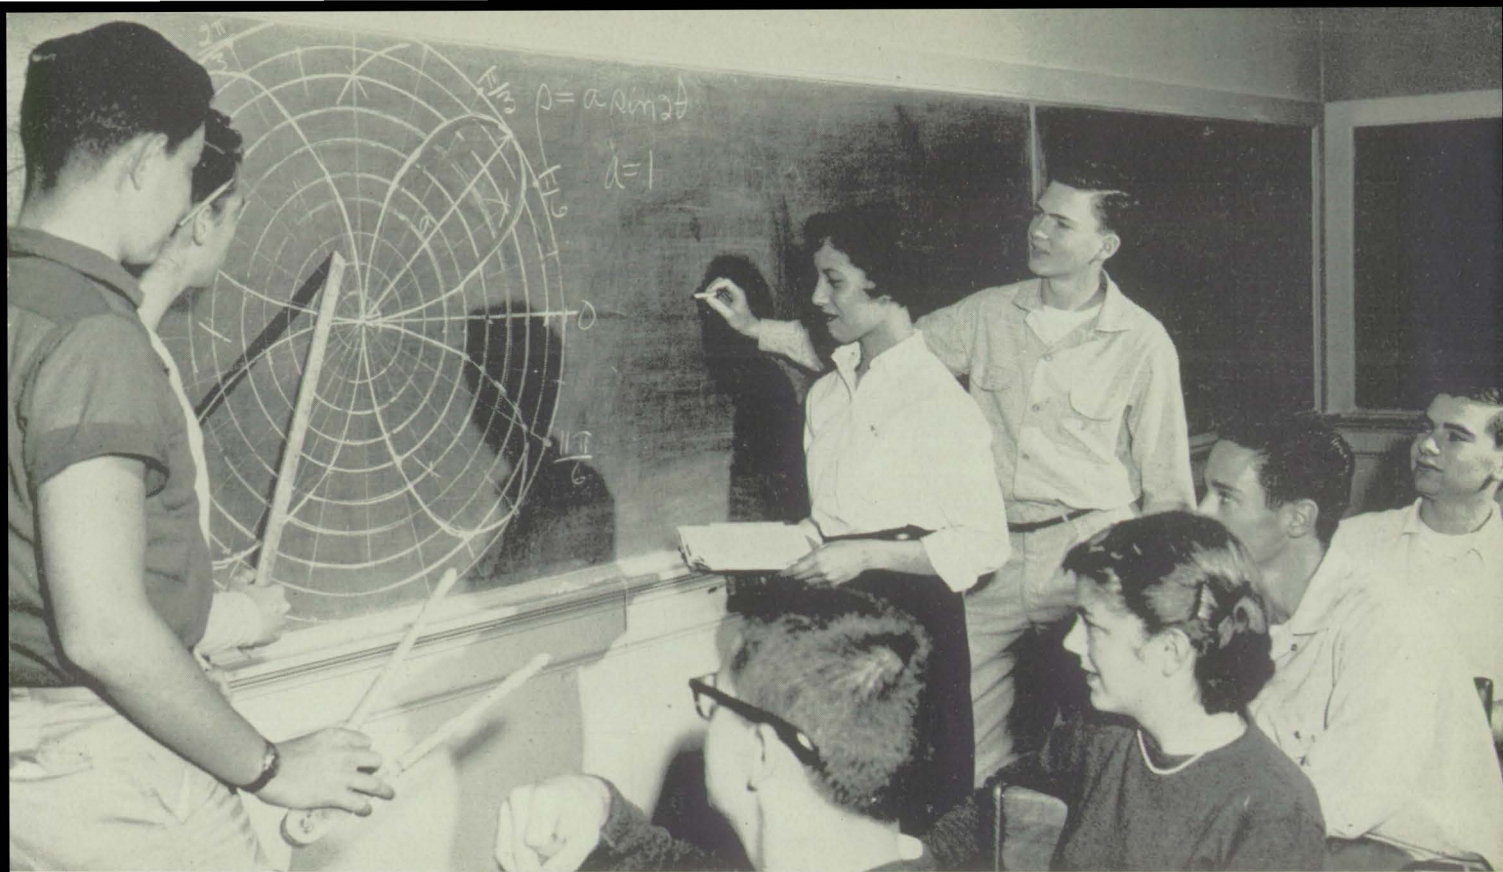

English Aids In Better Communication

The art of communication is the business of the English department: the exactly right word, the effective sentence, the accurate understanding of others' thoughts as given in books and papers, in radio and television. Study, to broaden understanding and to learn basic principles; wide reading, to profit from the past and to know the present; practice, to become proficient in expression, in reading, and in group effort: these are the ways by which we work toward our goals. Activities center in stories, poems, plays, biographies, in papers and original projects, and in panel discussions.

Students in Public Speaking conduct a panel. Members of the panel are John Ware, Janet McNeely, Carol Kavanaugh, Geoff Nunes, and Sharon Mickelson.

Trigonometry students, Phil Frost and Bill Alber, explain a trig. problem to Joan Osorio and Al Pryor while other students watch.

Mathematics Proves To Be A Challenge

Mathematics is a tool which serves everyone. The Alameda High School Mathematics department offers courses for those who plan to go on with mathematics to become engineers, scientists, statisticians, etc., and also for those who plan to enter the business or industrial world immediately after graduation.

The department is staffed by a group of capable instructors who are able to guide students through the courses offered in an interesting and profitable manner. Juniors and seniors find the upper division courses—trigonometry, solid geometry, advanced algebra—especially challenging.

Science Unlocks Key For The Future

To meet the challenge of attaining an intelligent understanding of our environment in an ever-changing scientific world, we should be well informed in the basic sciences: that is general science, biology, chemistry, physiology, and physics, which are offered in abundance and with every facility for lab work at Alameda High School.

During the last year our engineering students were greatly inspired by an all-day tour of the new steam electrical generating plant at Pittsburgh, California, and by a visit to the Nuclear Energy Exhibit sponsored by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Results of the hydrogen experiment conducted by Debbie Wamser, Doug Hogan, Al Flood, and Rich Jacob are not known in detail, but A.H.S. remains intact.

Language Teaches Foreign Culture

French, Spanish, and Latin are offered by the language department of Alameda High School. Through its classes the student learns the language, the culture and geography of the country.

Aims of the language department are to teach students to read and write well, converse properly, appreciate the literature, understand the value of international relations, and to learn the country's geography. There are movies and slides, and short skits are presented in the language. The teachers sponsor clubs promoting the language. A great deal of research is done in the public and school libraries.

John Smith, Robert Oliver, Mary Schriber, Warren Ullner, and George Schwab are learning more about their foreign language by reading pamphlets and books.

In History class Geoff Nunes points out a feature of our country to classmates Earl Hamlin and Pat Maydole while others listen.

History Trains For Citizenship

The history department of Alameda High School offers a body of courses designed to give to our students at least an elementary understanding of how we got to be as we are. European history tells us about our forefathers who shared the backgrounds and roots leading to the founding and building of this nation; American history is designed to inform us about our own country in order that we might become more intelligent, valuable citizens, and California history is offered so that we might have a more intimate knowledge of the immediate area in which we live.

Commercial Courses Valuable To All

There are three fields in the commercial department from which to choose; these are clerical, accounting, and secretarial. The pre-college student usually takes one semester of typewriting and shorthand. There is the type of student who is interested in general office and clerical work; he can acquire training for this by taking typing, office practice, business mathematics, accounting, and machine calculation. There are some students interested in accounting as a profession. This type of student is encouraged to do intensive work in that field and in addition acquire skill in using machines.

In the art classes the students paint the posters that advertise the games, work with linoleum blocks and papier maché, run the silk screen, and design the fashion show bids and opening dance bids and posters. They make the sets and many of the props for the senior plays, Christmas pageant, and Masque and Sandal presentations.

Donna Burns, Dean Sagen, and Bill Suman work hard at getting a silk screen paint mixed properly.

Drama students are taught the fundamentals of acting as well as learning to appreciate all types of plays and to produce plays. They also develop the ability to have poise before an audience and to speak well. An enjoyable one-act play, directed by Mr. Sisler, is presented each term by the advanced drama students.

Acting out a domestic comedy are Bill Fairey, Leah Reed, Jacine Johnson, Judy Deppen, and Les Daniels.

In recent years music classroom aims have included, along with the teaching of the subject, a genuine effort for an intelligent understanding of the student. The belief in the importance of the individual and the desire to develop a creative being is probably most apparent in the creative arts.

Participation in music groups kindles a keen sense of necessary cooperation, social integration, tolerant understanding, individual responsibility, and mature attitudes. The student participant involved in the integrated effort of many learns to conform to and benefit by the restrictions of society.

Pete Reynolds, John Husing, Ed Payne, Elizabeth Snider, and Frances MacIver rehearse for a music festival.

Physical Education Teaches Cooperation

At last swimming has been added to the long list of activities offered by Alameda High's Physical Education department. Students now can learn to swim as well as participate in other sports. In the Modern Dance classes the girls learn to coordinate their movements and to express themselves through the medium of dance. Both boys and girls learn the principals of teamwork as well as the fundamentals of various sports; they may develop skills in one or more sports. Before graduation they must pass two courses in First Aid which are taken in the Junior year. Hygiene is also taught each term.

Students are enthusiastic about the new swim classes which have been added to the P. E. program.

Besides the fast game of basketball pictured here, the boys' Physical Education department offers football, baseball, track, tennis, golf, and swimming.

The game of Speed-a-way is very popular among the girls, along with other activities such as volleyball, soccer, softball, modern dance, and baseball.

Vocational Arts Prove To Be Useful

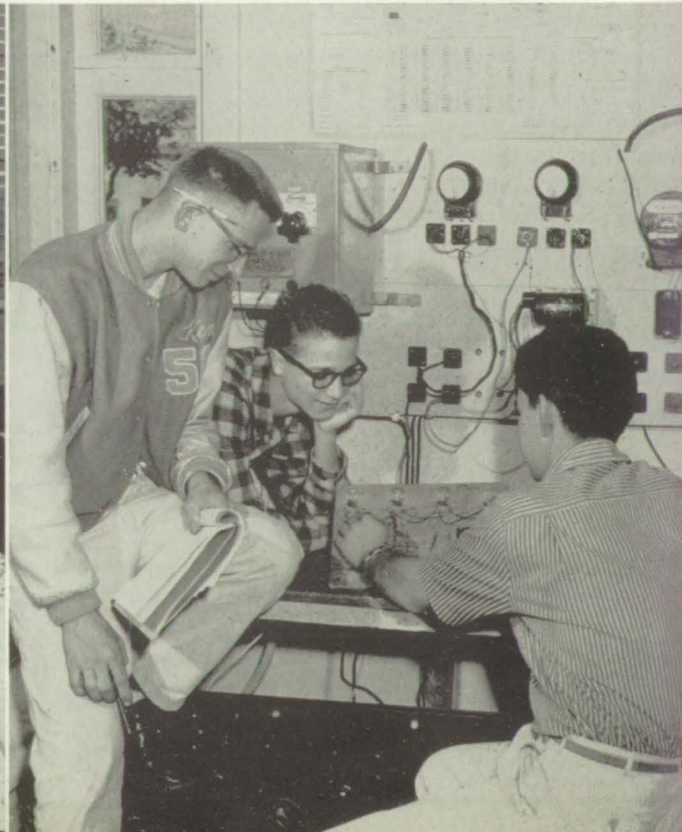

Home Economic classes are not only instructional but fun too. Breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners are planned, prepared, served, and eaten by the three or four girls who work together in each kitchen. The Homemaking apartment is also used by these classes.

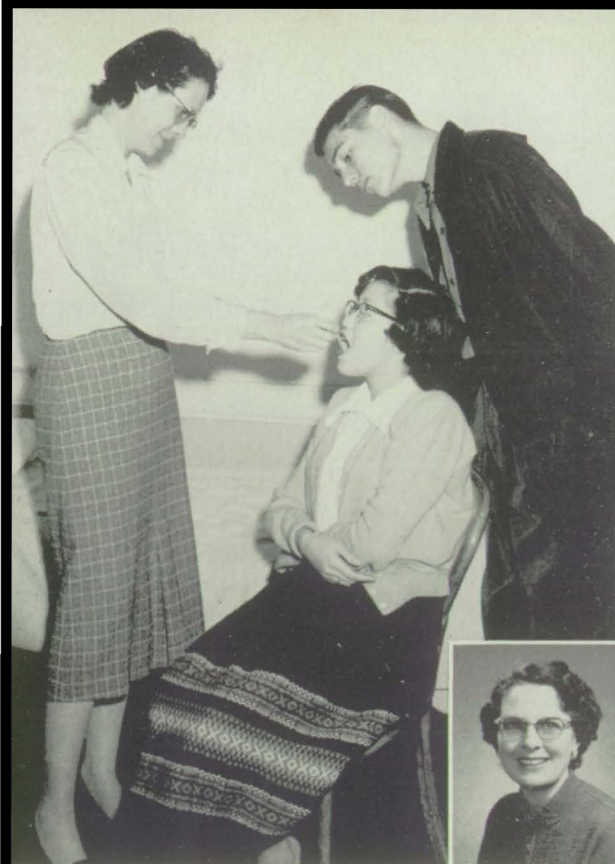

The boys at Alameda High School are offered many varied types of Industrial arts which include auto, electrical, wood, radio, and machine shops. These classes give the student an opportunity to develop his particular hobby or to train for a career.

Georgia Waters, Pat Weber, and Marcia Ekdahl find that clothing classes are fun and very helpful.

Checking amperage and electronic intensity are Ken Bechtle, Chuck Nance, and Larry Santos.

Milton Costa watches carefully as Mrs. Wheatly takes Patsy Wong's temperature.

Examining books during an exhibit in our well-equipped library are various A.H.S. students.

Helping Others Is Their Purpose

"Oh! My aching head! May I have some aspirin?" Routine reply from the nurse, "I haven't any medication." Drugs for internal use are not given except on medical advice. They may be dangerous and delay successful treatment.

"Please can I renew . . . ?" "Where are the mysteries?" Such is the flood of questions, demands, and requests that daily rolls across the charge desk. The Librarian and assistants meet these demands and do all the routine jobs to keep the Library shipshape.

The aim of the Driver Training program is to teach the students skills and attitudes necessary to become safe, competent drivers. We try to teach students the basics of good driving and to develop good driving habits. Students are taught the rules of the road and are made to abide by these rules in actual driving.

Getting the finer points of auto driving from Mr. Geyer are Bob Ottersteter, Marlene MacArthur, and Peggy Brockwehl.

The R.O.T.C. at Alameda High consists of three companies, a color guard, and the school band, which plays at parades. The instructors are regular Army personnel who have experience in troop leading and training. Courses include marksmanship, tactics, map reading, and Military Policy.

On May 18, 1956, the annual Competition was held at Lincoln Park, at which time over fifty medals and four new trophies were awarded. Federal Inspection this year was April 26. This is the day that officers from the Presidio inspect units to see that they conform to specific Army regulations.

Much of the efficient running of Alameda High is due to our three staffs: the office staff, the maintenance staff, and the cafeteria staff. How many times have students been dependent on one of these staffs? The attendance office staff issues passes and keeps student records for future use, and the secretaries in

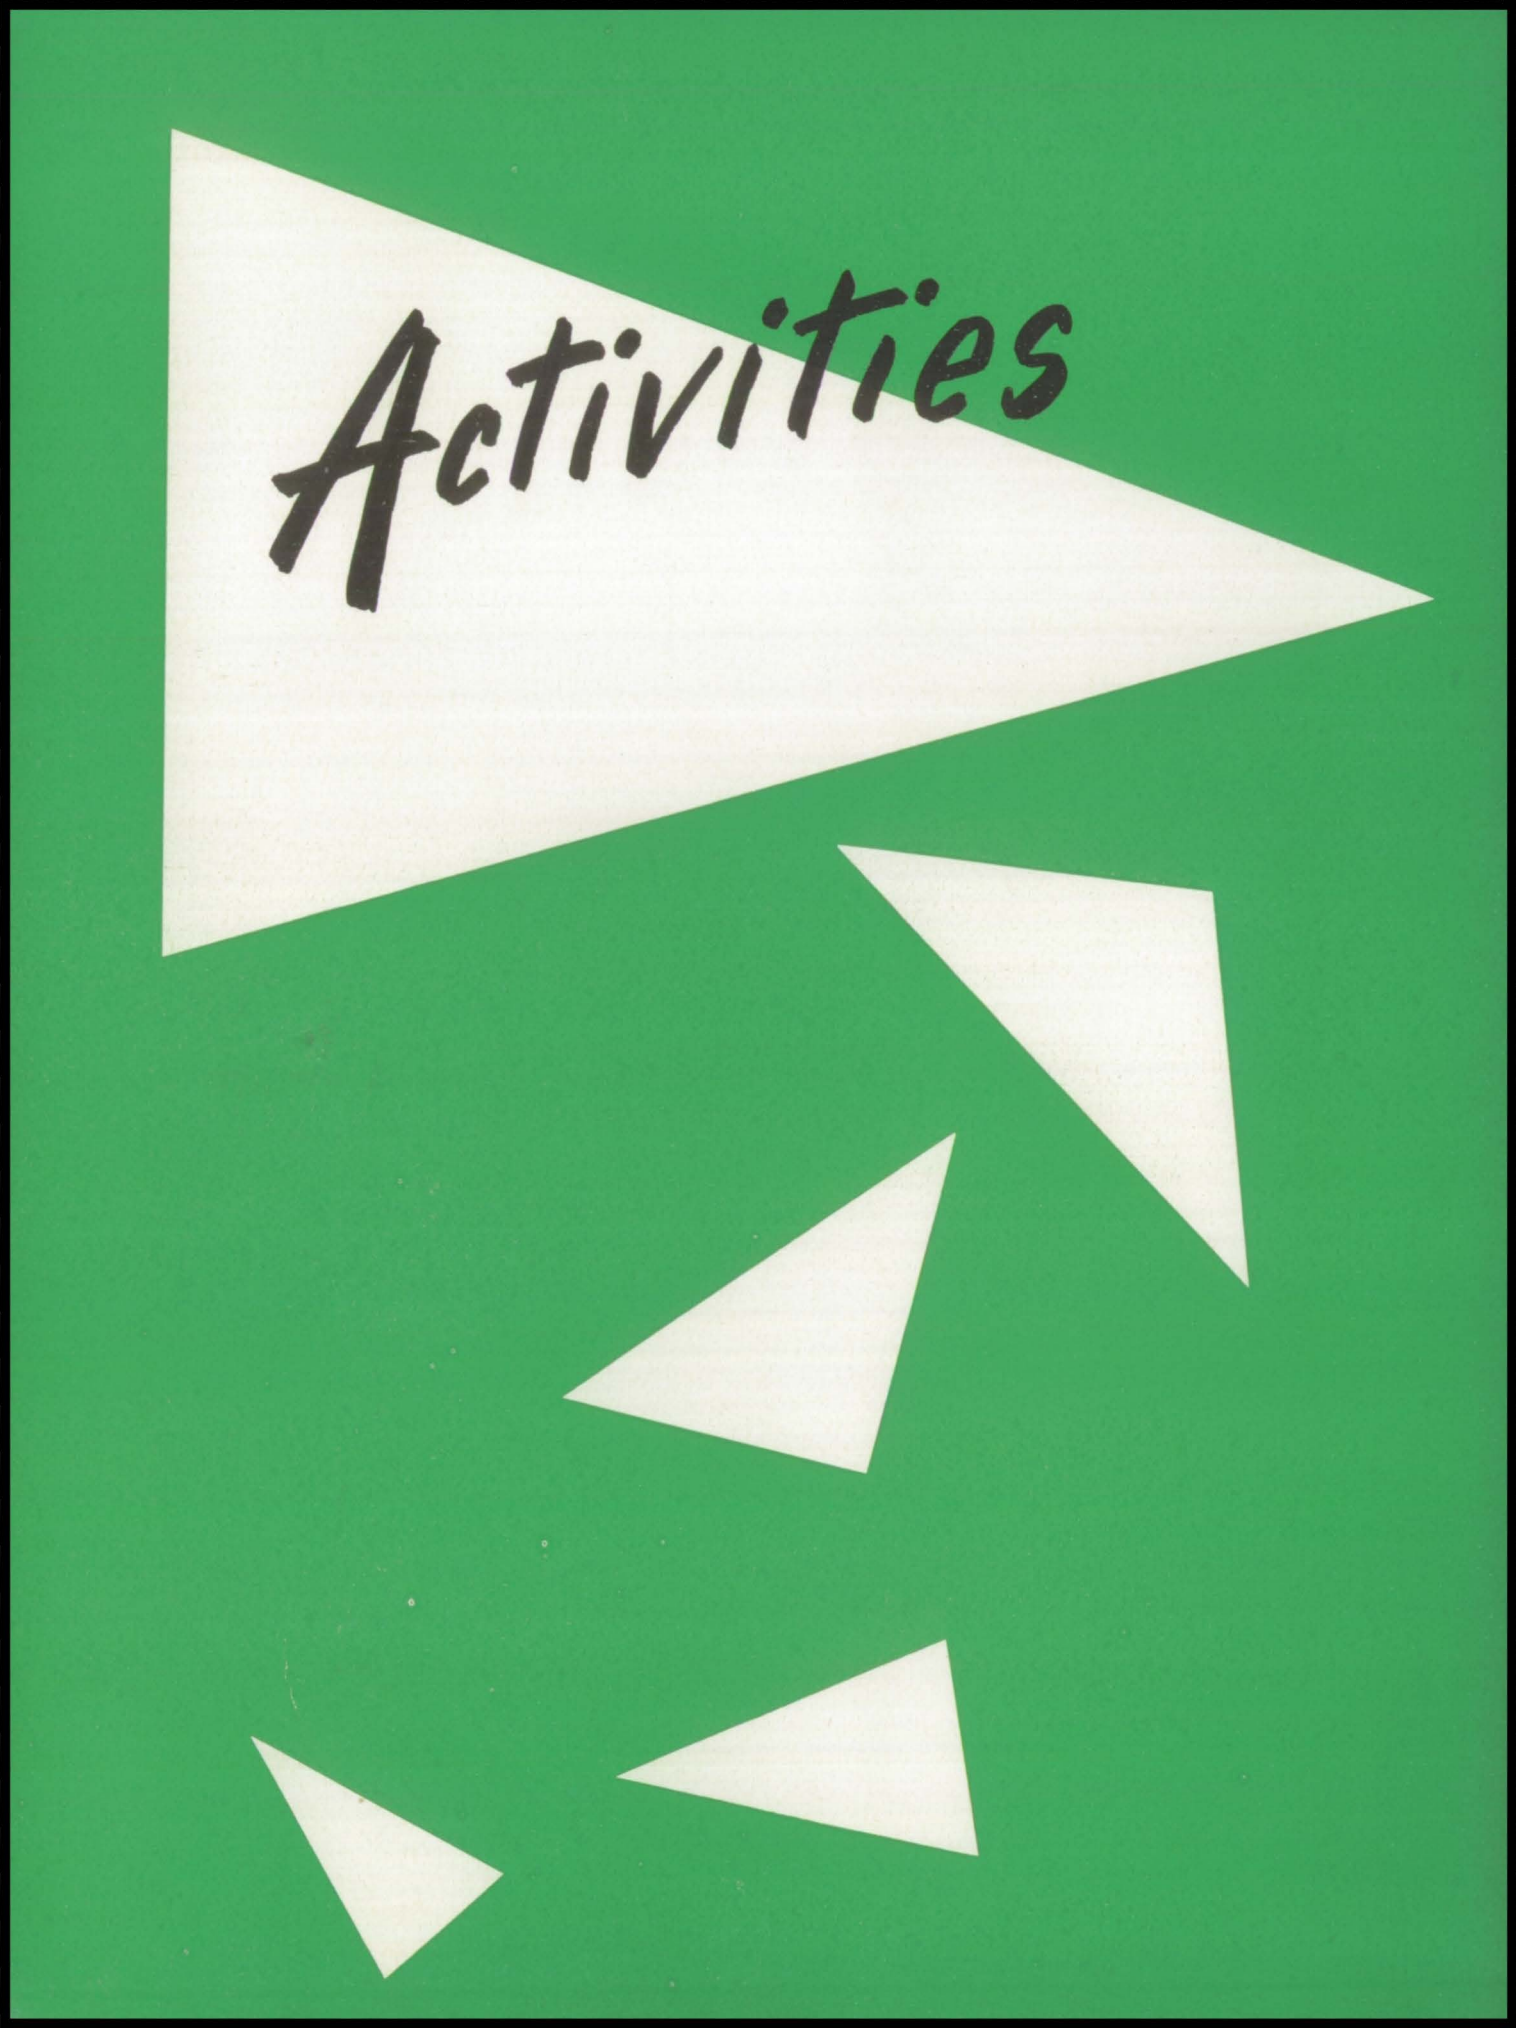

Mr. Bryan's office keep official transcripts, answer inquiries, and help students; the maintenance crew keeps the school clean and safe for all; through the work of the cafeteria staff, students and teachers obtain excellent hot lunches, lunch bags, and snacks—each staff works for our benefit.

NOISE? EXCITEMENT? National and school records were broken by the leaders and members of A.S.A.H.S. this semester! Dave collected dues one day faster than any previous treasurer! Ethel announced that we were the first school in the nation to win the National Safety Award eleven years in a row! Dan's 100% correct minutes were lively and amusing! Ron's pep talks rallied us to record attendance at the games! Bert, with the help of the Student Faculty Committee, obtained a good variety of enjoyable entertainment for our meetings! These fine results were inspired by good leadership!

Dave Orton, Speaker of the Ad Board, kept things running smoothly this fall during the Board's meetings. Subjects that were brought up varied from awarding blocks to varsity men, passing the school budget, buying athletic uniforms, starting a fund for an electric score board, to sponsoring the opening dance, "September Song." Ethel Rodgers and Dan Lubbock were the manager and co-manager of this affair. The Ad Board decided to make it a girl-ask-boy as well as a boy-ask-girl dance so that everyone would come, and so that the new students would feel at home and get acquainted with high school.

"Howdy Stranger" Scores A Resounding Hit

"Howdy Stranger," a rollicking comedy in three acts was the play chosen by the class of June 1956 as its Senior Play. The hero, Elly Jordan, lands on a Wyoming dude ranch while en route to California. One of the ranch guests is Roy Chadwick, who hears Elly sing and hires him in the belief that he is an authentic cowboy. Although he fears animals, Elly is reluctant to leave the ranch because he likes Jane Hardy, the owner's daughter. Sam Thorne, who believes himself to be a great singer, is jealous of Elly and dislikes him because Roy hires Elly, not Sam.

Elly goes to New York, where he becomes a singing sensation, but Sam follows and accuses him of being a fake. At Roy's request, Elly is hypnotized by Professor Landis and loses his fear of animals, whereupon he wins a rodeo and is reunited with Jane.

Lobby talk during both performances and comments for some time after the play, as well as new attendance records established, attested to an outstanding evening of entertainment.

Mr. Chadwick writes out a contract for Sam Thorne but soon finds that Sam is the wrong man. Actors are Jerry Healy, Walt Jacobs, and Paul Aragon.

The class of February 1958 presented its Soph Hop on January 13, 1956. The dance, "Unexpected," was ably managed by Wayne Stanley and co-managed by Susan Church. The clever bids consisted of little doors of black and white with peek-a-boo eyes peeking out of the windows; the name "Unexpected" was printed across the bid in light blue glitter. Committee chairmen were bids, Barbara Peterson and Joan Halkett; publicity, Huston Marlowe and Kathy Brown; decorations, Gary Farwell; music, Ethelyn Jenkins; skit, Rich Blunden and Judie Hines; refreshments, Connie Stagnaro; reception, Sue Anderson. The class worked very hard to make its Hop the success it was. Everyone had a swell time and the class was happy and proud to know that it broke the sales record.

Social Life Is Exciting And Fun

"Fire and Ice," presented by the class of February '57, was held in November, 1955, in the school gym. It was a gala affair with the girls in dressy dresses and formals and the boys decked out in suits or sports jackets and slacks.

Able managers were Jim Aitchison and Nancy Lipka; the chairmen were Jeanette Justin, bids; Judy Sabatini, decorations; Debbie Wamser, reception; Lois Brady, refreshments; Al Flood, sales; Joanne Terpening, music; and Challis Turner, publicity. The music was provided by Rich Starr and his orchestra.

Effective and attractive decorations filled the gym; icicles and flames were realistic, while the winter scene with its flaming sun showed the contrast between fire and ice. Comments from dancers all declared the prom delightful and danceable.

Highlight of the Military Ball is the crowning of the queen. Bill Allen presents Charlyn Welch, the queen, with the cup while Chet Plomgren crowns her.

Military Life at A.H.S. is quite varied and enjoys such additions as the Military Ball, color guard, and sponsors.

The ball, "Winter World," was held in December. It was under the management of Bill Allan and Renee McKellar with officers and sponsors heading the committees. Everyone worked hard to make the cute bids, attractive decorations, and the evening a success.

Cadets who have distinguished themselves in studies and military know-how may be in the color guard. They appear at football games, parades and inspections.

You have all seen the sponsors around school. All cadet officers holding the rank of Captain are eligible to have sponsors, who help cadets with the Military Ball, inspections and other such tasks. They may join the Sword and Shield, so they help with their activities also.

Christmas Pageant Our Gift To Community

A tableau of the nativity scene is presented by Judy Lossee, Angelo Perata, Joyce Peterson, Leonard Nikolai, Karen Page, and Lane Swenson.

A very moving and beautiful Christmas Pageant, "I Remember Christmas," was presented this year at A.H.S. It was written and directed by Mr. Lloyd Sisler. The clever sets were designed by Miss Reichmuth and her art students, and costumes were supplied by the sewing classes. The imitations of toys by the Modern Dance Club, lovely singing by the choir, and the superb acting of the cast all blended together to make the pageant one to be long remembered by all A.H.S. students and faculty.

The story is about Grandpa's memories of the Christmases that have passed. He recalls his younger days of activities and of how he did not believe in Christmas after Grandma died. Then he comes upon a church and after entering, his faith is renewed. Thus the ideas of Christmas are brought out in a spectacular presentation.

One scene from the Christmas Pageant was the skater's waltz. Pictured are Bruce Packer and Kathi Phillips giving us their version of this old favorite.

Auditorium Workers Give Essential Service

The stage is set. The actors are ready. The orchestra is in place and the audience is being seated. Members of the auditorium staff are rushing back and forth taking tickets, showing people to their seats, and passing out programs. They are busily at work, doing their important job. They must get the audience seated before the senior play, Christmas Pageant, Operetta, or any other program begins in our auditorium. The R.O.T.C. boys help sell tickets from the box office and are on hand in case of emergency. Under the direction of Mrs. Cecchetti and M./Sgt. Brown, the staffs have fun.

Hard-working Staff Produces Annual Acorn

What goes on behind the locked door of the Acorn Room? For years this room has known the joy, confusion, despair, anticipation, and satisfaction of Acorn staffs.

While one is overjoyed when he finds that he has been selected for the new staff, he is utterly confused when he finds himself confronted with the maze of unthought of responsibilities. He must make a "dummy"; balance budgets; get pictures scheduled, "cropped", coded, and sent to the engraver; get copy written, proof-read, and sent to the printer; above all, he must meet deadlines! He discovers the fact that there is hard, time-consuming work connected with the editing of a year book, but, after weary hours of labor, the work is finished. However, as the books are read and enjoyed by all readers, he realizes that the experiences, the knowledge, and the satisfaction he has gained from working on the staff can never be expressed. These memories will remain with him always, never to be regretted!

Finding captions for pictures and typing them keeps Nancy Johnson, Sue Hansen, and Mary Rohweder busy.

Business staff works hard to keep the books balanced. Jane Blair, Judy Grimshaw, Gloria Berman, Nancy Lipka check ad possibilities.

Oak Leaf Maintains High Publication Standards

The Oak Leaf Staff brought news to us of all activities around school as well as a few sketches of students, athletes, and teachers. The sports editors gave faithful accounts of A.H.S. football, baseball, and basketball games and of swimming, tennis, golf, and track competition.

Feature writers kept us up to date regarding managers and co-managers of dances, plays, fun day, and names and pictures of committee chairmen. They also introduced new teachers and helped us keep track of the traveling ones. The Hornets' Nest calendar was of great help reminding us of vital dates.

Yes, the Oak Leaf plays an important part in high school life and the staff has to keep hustling.

During last year if a person tried to keep up with the orchestra and band, he would have worn himself out. He would have gone from club lunch concerts, to musical performances at the grammar schools, to our varsity games, to senior play performances, to the C.O.P. music festival, to the Christmas Pageant, to the Spring Music Festival and back again. The new band marching routines were a good addition to half time activities. Yes, these groups were very busy and their music was even better than ever, as everyone entered into the spirit of his activities.

Award Winners Bring Honors To School

Boys' and Girls' State Representatives—Judy Anderson, Dan Lubbock.

Youth City Officials—Dean Sagen, Fire Chief; Ed Suman, Councilman; Ken Robie, Councilman. Absent from picture: Judy Newton.

Youth City Officials are elected by the students. After election these officials receive a tour of city functions and serve for a time in the capacity they are elected to. Representatives to Girls' and Boys' States are chosen for scholastic and extra curricular achievements. Bank of America Awards are made on this same basis, but the student must have taken courses in the field for which he is chosen. Voice of Democracy award is given on the basis of a speech made by the candidate. For the D.A.R. Award girls of the Senior class vote for three girls and from this trio the D.A.R. gives its award to one. Art students submit drawings for the Scholastic Art Awards. The drawings are judged by San Francisco artists.

Everyone looked forward to Fun Day this year not only because it meant getting out of school early but because students knew from past experiences that it meant great fun and also financial help for the clubs and classes that sponsored the booths. Students found it hard to resist eating everything in sight, trying every game, and participating in everything.

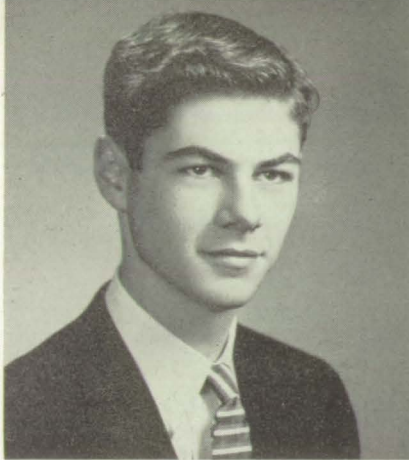

The Score Board Committee composed of Chuck Morehouse, Jim Burress, Joan Moffitt, Mike Prado, Doug Millett, and Dick Bertero has been working hard to get the finances in and the electric score board up by next football season. Donations have come from classes, various clubs, individuals, and ticket sales. Let's hope the scoreboard is up by fall.

A.H.S. Officers Present Entertaining Meetings

Student activities are managed and run by the Student Body Officers, Student Faculty Committee, and Ad. Board. Suave President Dan Lubbock presided over Student Meetings and represented Alameda High at various social and civic activities. Trim Judy Grimshaw saw to it that Alameda High's grounds were kept clean; she was also a school representative with Dan. Chuck Morehouse added sparkle to our student meetings with his clever 100% minutes. Business-like Jim Burress handled his financial secretary's position capably and offered many student rates. Energetic Yell Leader Walt Jacobs supported our teams with enthusiastic yelling. Members of the Student Faculty Committee searched far and wide to find entertainment that everyone would enjoy to the utmost.

The yellow and white caps of the Men's Board of Control were seen at the games and around school as the members enforced the laws and kept students under control. The Board of Control is on stair and hall duty daily. The Chief Counselor was Mike McCutcheon. His assistants were Dino Barbis, First Vice-Counselor; Jerry Healy, Second Vice-Counselor; Harold Zecher, Secretary; and Angelo Perata, Sergeant-at-Arms. To complete the term a pot-luck supper was held at the home of Mr. Bell.

Sarah Gage admits trouble in the form of Jonathan and Matilda Rockwood. Lynette Stormer, Doug Healey, and Kathi Phillips play the parts.

The spring senior play, "January Thaw," presented by the class of February, '57, was a comedy about Mr. and Mrs. Gage and their children, Barbara, Paula, and Sarah.

The Gages buy a home in Connecticut but learn later that they do not have a clear title. The Rockwoods, original owners of the house, return home in search of their son Matt. Trouble between the two families begins when the Rockwoods refuse to give up their title to the house; they remain and take over one of the rooms. The two families go on living completely independent lives for about six months.

Barbara and Matt go off to deliver a baby, but this action is misunderstood as their elopement. Not long after this incident the Gage family finds itself eating an unappetizing breakfast of cornflakes, molasses, and olives due to Mr. Gage forgetting to do the shopping and to a power failure in the house. After much debate they decide to accept the Rockwoods' invitation to have a warm breakfast, which was cooked on a woodstove. During this enjoyable breakfast the two families settle their differences and find that the "old" and the "modern" are able to live together agreeably.

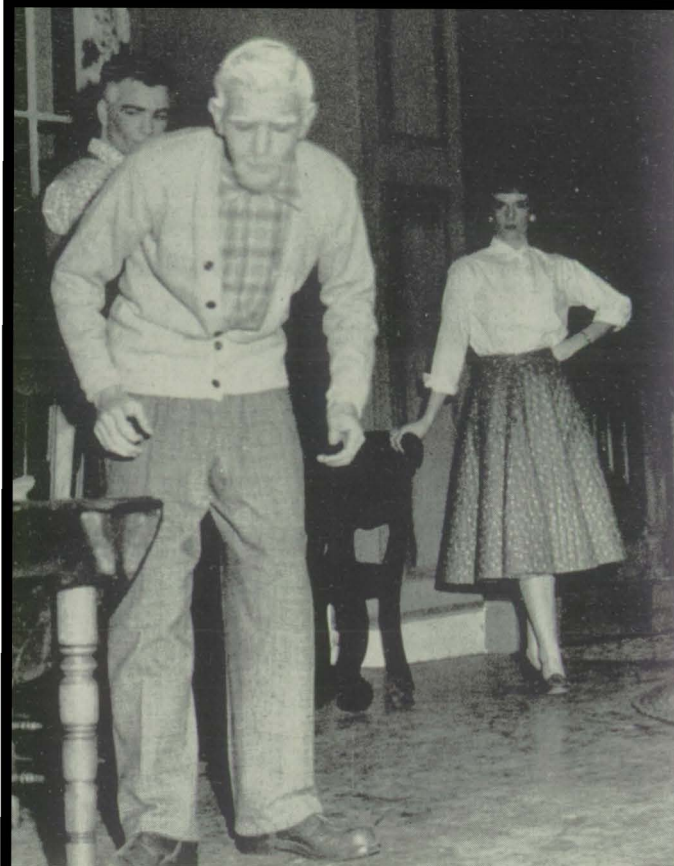

"January Thaw" Exhibits Varied Class Talent

The Gage family settles down to its breakfast of corn flakes, molasses and olives. From the left are Sue Hansen, Lynette Stormer, Chuck Morehouse, and Jeanette Justin.

Leonard Nikolai plays Matt Rockwood, whose bad habits of staring at Mr. Gage while he is trying to work is unappreciated. Mr. Gage is played by Chuck Morehouse.

Uncle Walter (Earl Hamlin) takes a good look around the Gages' house and tries to figure in which part of the house they live. Herbert and Marge Gage (Chuck Morehouse and Jeanette Justin) just watch and let him look.

George (Paul Cronenwett), who has just come back from California, asks Marge and Paula Gage (Jeanette Justin and Sue Hansen) where he can find his fiancée, Barbara (Nancy Lipka).

On April 13th, the class of June '57 presented its Junior Prom, "Blue Mirage." The bids, posters and decorations carried out the Indian theme in beautiful shades of blue.

The bids were misty blue with a white Taj Mahal surrounded by clouds and a crescent moon. The decorations cleverly carried out the same idea: a large Taj Mahal at one end of the floor with an extended pool, mosaic arches, and other replicas of India.

Committees were headed by Phil Plant and Sarah Decker, publicity; Ann Russum and Judy Haskell, bids; Joel Champion and Mary Lueras, music; Janet Gilmore and Peggy Brockwell, decorations; Joan Canepa and Bette Barker, bid sales.

Spring Dances Brighten School Life

The Class of June '58 stole a page from the stage and screen book of hits when it presented its version of Frank Loesser's "Guys and Dolls." Instead of having all the singing and dancing on a Broadway or New York stage, it was done in our gym. Couples in bright cottons and sport shirts danced to the music of the play as well as the hour's top tunes.

The managers for the Soph Hop were Chris Jensen and Sue Delventhal. To head the committees they had the assistance of Barbara Bertero, theme; Janet Wallen, bids; Cathy Christmann, music; Sue Byrne, publicity; Sue Scott, decorations; Betty Rankin, skit; Ruth Janke, reception; and Ruth Gustaveson, refreshments.

Football Team Upset Pre-season Predictions

Almost, but not quite! Alameda, defending last year's A.C.A.L. crown, wasn't expected to retain this honor; however, the league race was neck and neck up to the last game. After losing twenty-four lettermen, Alameda had a young and inexperienced team. Returning lettermen were Bob Parker, Terry Weldon, Steve Levy, Forrest Craven, Bert Estes, Larry Fox, and Jerry Brooks. Jerry had an outstanding season, scored eight touchdowns, and was elected Most Valuable Member of the Team. These lettermen worked with new Varsity men, and the football squad soon developed into a good strong team.

Injuries during the El Cerrito game—Bob Parker and Forrest Craven were hurt—resulted in a mid-season shakeup. But the Hornets rolled along until one remaining game stood in their way. This game was against San Lorenzo, with whom they were tied for first place in the league. In this final, sudden-death game, Alameda could never get started, and after a dramatic loss it surrendered its A.C.A.L. crown to San Lorenzo.

Our great coaching staff, headed by Chuck Butler with Calder Hayes at the line and Sam DeVito as backfield coach and scout, organized a new backfield which more than made up for the losses by injury. Glen Harradine and Mike Prado were converted into hard-running backs while Rick Dobbins, who later passed for all four touchdowns in the Piedmont game, took over the quarterback spot. Alameda's strong line allowed only about ninety yards per game; the kicking department was held down by Don Bell and Mike Prado.

Soph-Frosh And J.V. Build Toward Varsity

An exceptionally spirited team, led by Coach Sam DeVito, had a rugged and exciting season, with a final tally of four won and four lost. It shut out our new rival, Encinal, by a score of eighteen to nothing. In the team's final game, against Hayward, the players showed their great ball-playing spirit; Hayward led at the half by the score of nineteen to six, but Alameda won the game twenty to nineteen.

The Soph-Frosh football season was rather rough on the won and lost column; however, the improvement shown by many of the boys as the season progressed is encouraging for next year's team. The team had a record of no wins for six games but several games were lost by the slim margin of one point or one touchdown. This early football experience is very important and vital to all Hornet football teams.

Despite the fact that the core of the 1956 Basketball Varsity team was a large group of returning lettermen, it wasn't expected to go far in the league competition. As it turned out, the Hornets were underestimated; they either held first place or threatened the top team for the entire season.

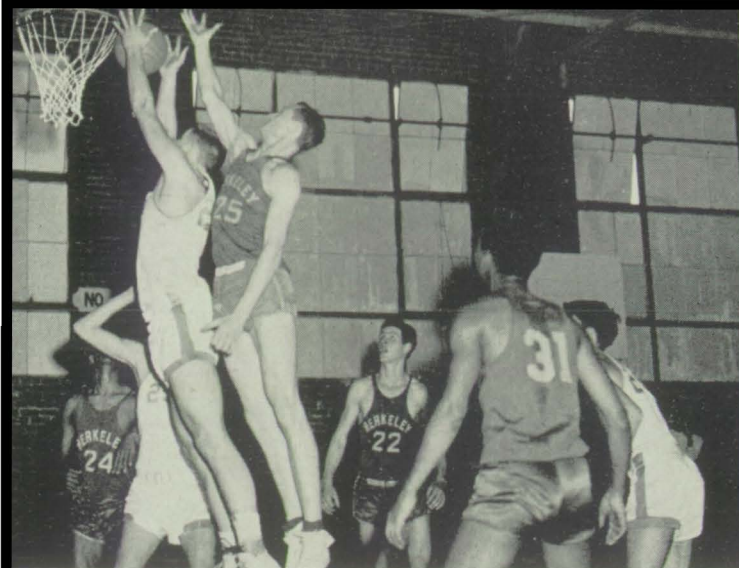

Our veteran coach, Hank Jones, had a colorful, fast-moving team with which to work. "Big Mike" McCutcheon played a vital part in our offense and defense with his hook shots and post plays. He was selected "Prep of the Week" during the season. Bill Thomas and Dave Middlesworth added spark and fire to the team; both were rated in the league's top scorers. Other hard working hoopsters were Kazu Sato, Rich Bullock, Dave Neave, Don Means, and John Cheadle.

The Hornets slacked off at the end of the season due to a painful double loss. Our forward Rich Bullock graduated at the mid-term, and Bill Thomas was unable to play the last three games. The team finished in third place with a nine-won, five-lost record; and there is a good experienced group of lettermen returning next year for the 1957 Hornet Team.

"Big Mike" McCutcheon leaps high for a tip in against Berkeley.

Young J.V. Hoopsters Play Good Season

The J.V. Hornet basketball team was extremely young, inexperienced, and outclassed by the rest of the Junior Varsity A.C.A.L. teams. The majority of the Hornet starting team was made up of freshmen and sophomores, whereas most of the other teams were composed of juniors. Therefore, the relatively poor record of the team was insignificant; the team improved tremendously over the season. Due to this improvement and since, with few exceptions, the J.V. team will be the same next year, the team should be on top in the league next season.

The starting lineup usually consisted of Eddie Evans, Dan Lufkin, Tom Henderson, Archie Martinez, and Terry Thelan.

Our veteran varsity coach, Mr. Louis Jolley, has turned out another promising track team which, by the end of a series of practice meets, may prove to be in substantial competition for league honors. Our final standings depend upon the improvements that the Hornets should and will make during the rest of the trial meets before the A.C.A.L. finals. Many returning ovalers show promise of breaking school records; at the league finals in May, perhaps A.C.A.L. marks will fall to Alameda trackmen. The team's practice workouts during Spring were very often hampered by wet weather; however, this is off-set by the fact that all the other track teams in the league had to contend with the same problem.

Junior Bob Scholz, running the 220 and 440 yard runs, has turned in the impressive times of 22.7 and 52 seconds respectively.

Another Junior, Don Bell, is rated with the best A.C.A.L. discus throwers. Don has already surpassed his record of last season with a toss of 137 feet and two inches, and he's aiming for a school record.

Our Hornet hurdler, Leonard Nikolai, in his final season, is doing well in league competition in both the high and low hurdles. On several occasions he has taken first place in both events at the same meet.

Among the middle distance and distance runners, Leland Wells, Doug Healey, and Ron Powers are consistent point getters for the Hornet team.

John King and Bud Cronenwett, sprinters, will be adding more strength to the team as the season continues toward the peak of competition.

A large group of weight-men is striving for places in final standings. This group includes Hal Zecher, Glen Harradine, and Pat Morley.

Junior Track Squad Exhibits Future Stars

Although the Hornet J.V. track team has been defeated several times, these defeats are deceiving since the potential team strength is greater than is indicated by the record. There is a large number of good track men to bolster the already young varsity team next season.

Coach Lou Jolley is now very ably coaching both the J.V. and varsity track teams; some of his outstanding prospects are Jim Cunningham who sprints, pole vaults, and broad jumps; Chuck Patino, hurdler; weight men Mark Cronenwett and Gary Terpening; and runners Don Oyen and John Skinner.

This team provided substantial competition for all J.V. teams they met this year, showing that the future varsity will be strong.

Hornet Baseball Team Starts With A Bang

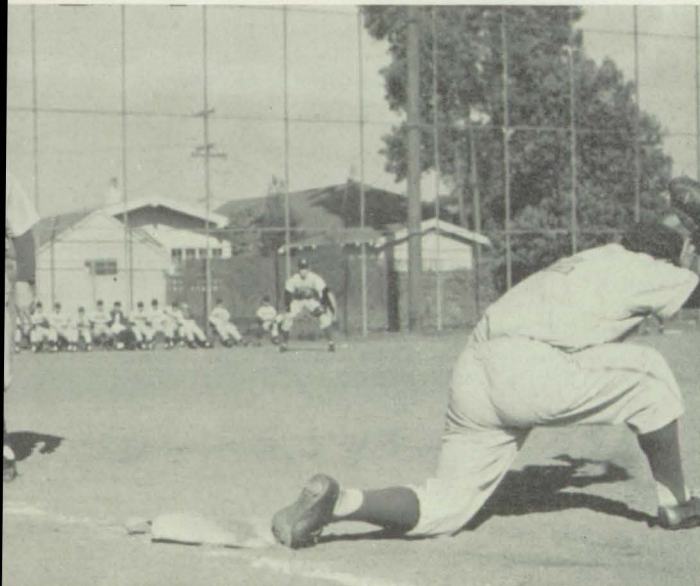

With only five seniors on the entire squad, Coach Calder Hayes managed to start his varsity baseball team in the new season with a win over Oakland High by a score of four to three.

It is not expected that the Hornet team will be in the number one spot this year because of the fact that it is a young team. Only two are returning lettermen; these are Dan Rueda and Buck Maritzen.

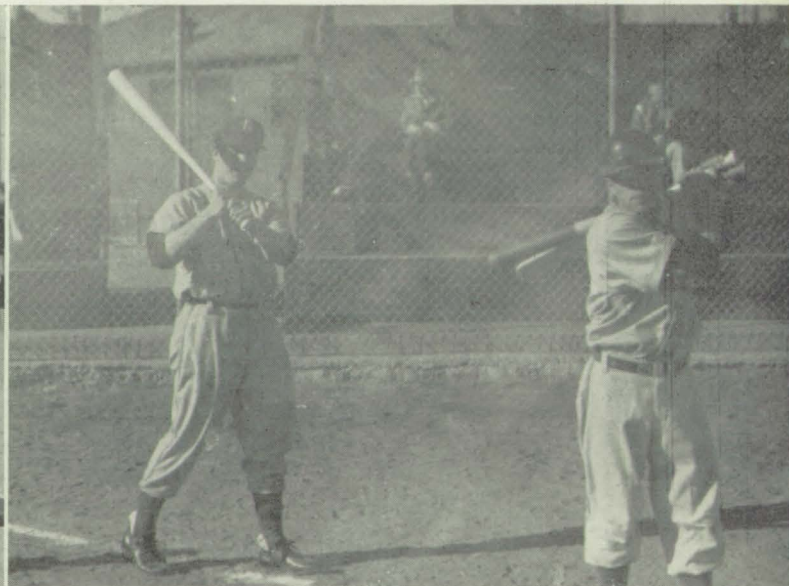

The five seniors on the team are Mike McFeely, Dan Lubbock, John Ware, Angelo Perata, and Buck Maritzen. With the majority of the team young players, there is good prospect for an improved squad next year.

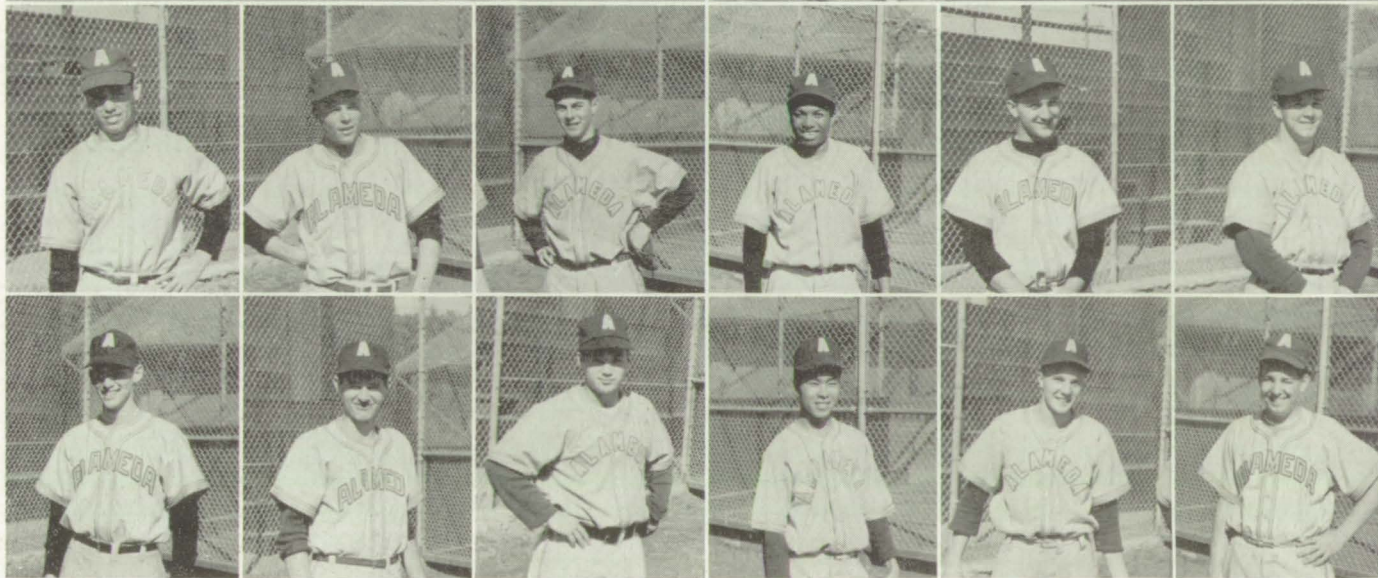

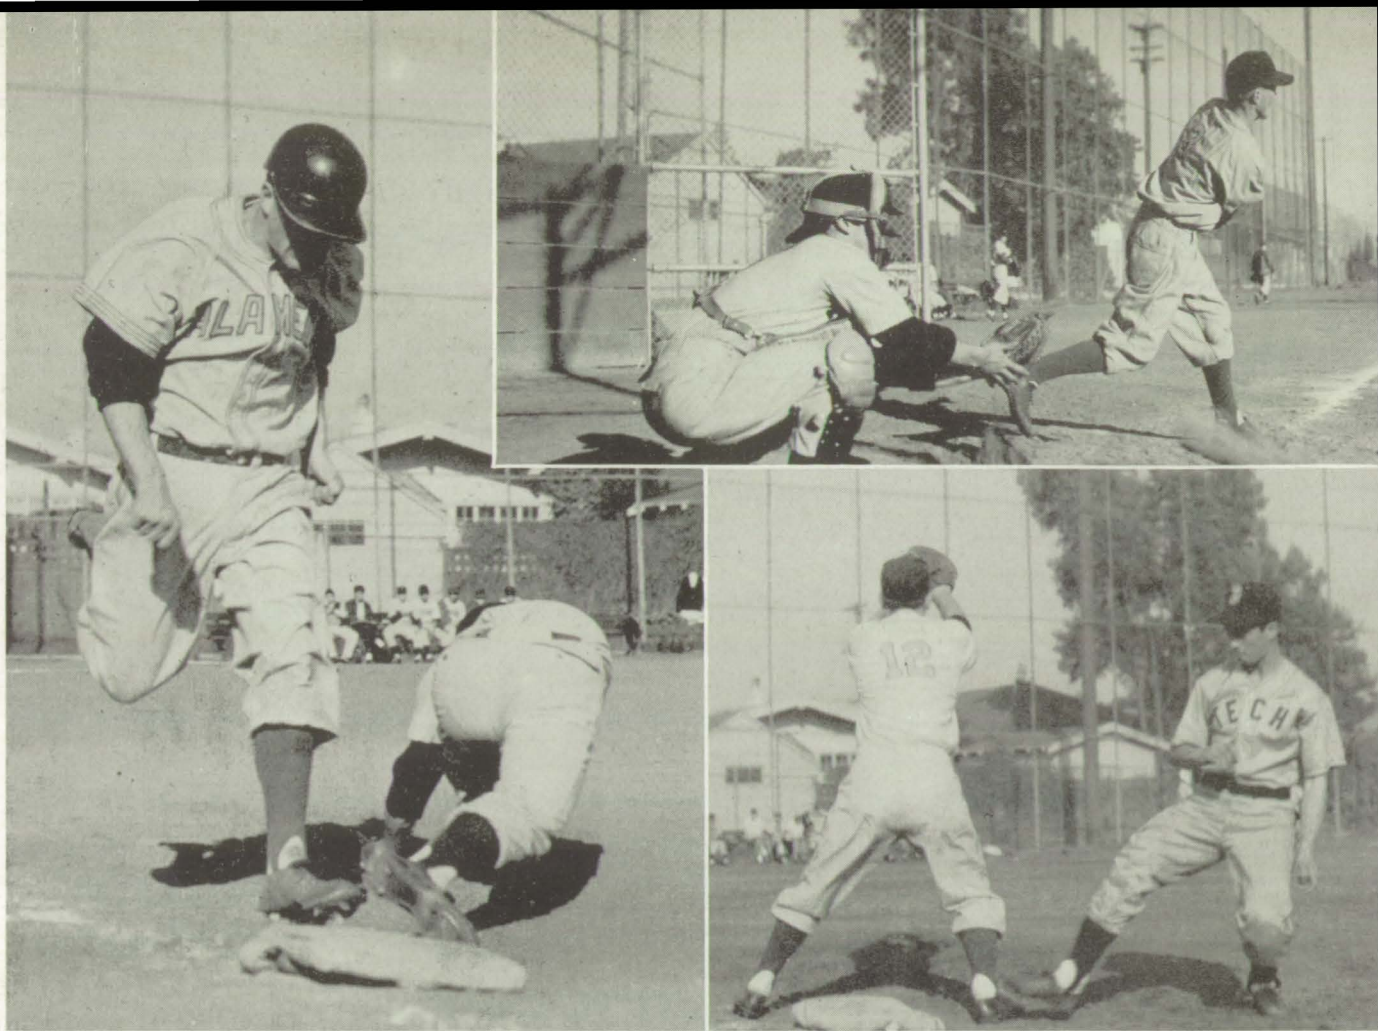

In practice games played to date the Hornet team has made an excellent showing against Oakland Technical, Mission, and Fremont High.

Bright Future Ahead For JV Baseball Team

Although the official season of the A.C.A.L. had not yet started at Acorn press time, the J.V. baseball team had won four out of six practice games, showing that this team may go a long way in the league.

The men who make up the team are Bill Hirst and Curt Nelson, pitchers; Sam Duncan, catcher;

Archie Martinez, first base; Dan Lufkin, second base; Wendell Mew, short stop; and Ken Sousa, third base. The outfielders are Lee Archer, left field; Moto Yamamoto, centerfield; and Eddie Evans, right field.

Under the fine coaching of Mr. Sam DeVito, this team should live up to last season's predictions.

Wide Variety Of Sports Offers Activity In

At Acorn press time, the Hornet golf team's competitive season has not yet begun. The first league matches will be held late in April.

Returning from last year's golf team are John Conroy, Bill Hopfer, and Fred Tomlin, all strong competitors. A number of "comers" will add to the team's strength: these include Gary Yeltman, Jeff Hamilton, and Louis Schmitz. John Gale, a transfer to Alameda High, ranks very high in the team.

Alameda High has produced many famous golfers in the past and this year's Hornet golf team should be no exception to this fact.

This year's tennis team, under the coaching of Coach Henry Jones, met El Cerrito, Berkeley, Piedmont, Hayward, and San Leandro tennis teams. All-star tennis teams in the league this year were Berkeley and Piedmont, and there seemed little chance of beating them.

Some of the outstanding men of the tennis team are Jerry Healy, Bill Staude, who both earned letters in tennis last year, Dick Woudstra, John Carmody, Kip Shroeter. Other hard-working players are Ed Entrican, Ralf Bohn, Allan Campbell, and Don Hagen, who also add much to the team.

Under the coaching of M/Sgt. W. A. Brown, this year's rifle team was among the top twenty teams of the nation and was thereby able to go to the national Sixth Army competition. They shot against the U.C. Freshman team and the U.S.F. team.

Top man of the rifle team was Walt Jacobs, who in one match shot 184 out of 200. Other men who get praise are Jim Cunningham and Jack Metzner.

With the opening of the new Swim Center in February, Alameda High students had their first opportunity to develop a swimming team in their own pool. Chuck Butler was selected to coach the newly created Hornet team. Practice meets were held with several schools around the Bay Area. Charles Russ is considered best swimmer in the free style and Don Hess best in the breast stroke.

Modern Dance And G.A.A. Offer

Modern Dance is a popular and enjoyable activity offered for Girls' P.E. It is under the talented direction of Mrs. Peace, who has taught the girls how to interpret music, learn dance skills, and become graceful. After they have learned the basis of modern dance, they may go into the advanced class in which they will create dances for various performances. The girls may also join the Modern Dance Club. Dance members have had the pleasure of attending a Master Lesson by a recognized leader.

Girls Athletic Association is an organization which provides enjoyment for the sports-minded girl. Girls who are high Freshmen and have an "A" or "B" in physical education may express the desire to belong to the G.A.A. They are then approved by the physical education teacher on ability and sportsmanship.

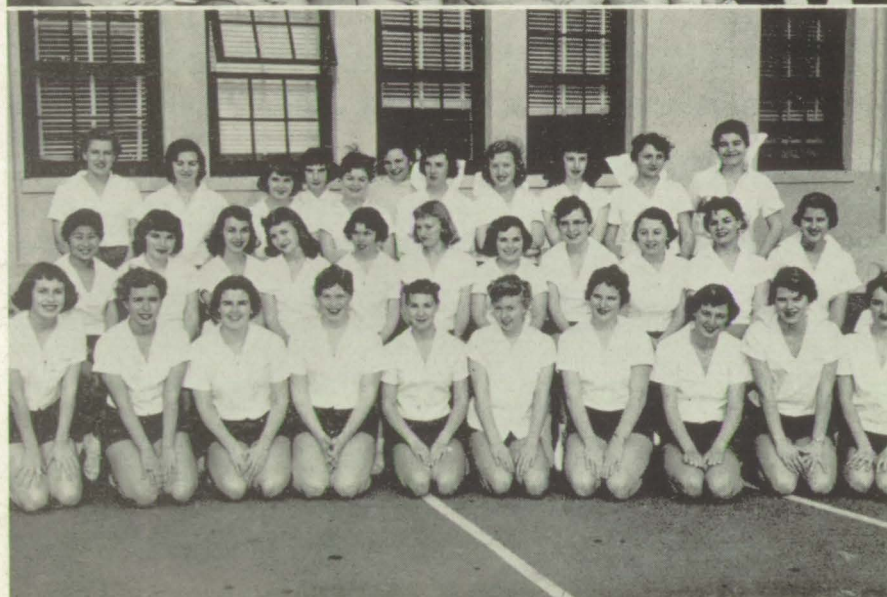

The G.A.A. offers many sports that cannot be taken in regular physical education classes. Some of these sports are tennis, crew, roller skating, and bowling.

For a girl to receive her Block A, she must be active in all the sports and receive points for each. When she earns 600 points she receives a circle A; 900 points will win her a Winged A, and when she reaches 1200 points she will receive her long awaited Block A. Awards are presented at the annual G.A.A. Spread, an event eagerly awaited by all the girls.

Star And Key Maintains Large Membership

Star and Key, the oldest honor society at Alameda High, has consistently maintained one of the largest memberships of any school club. Members enjoyed many meetings this year, and one of the most successful activities was a swimming party. A contribution to the electric scoreboard fund was made by the club, which also maintained a student loan fund. Members promote friendship around school and devote themselves to furthering good scholarships. Late in the spring term Star and Key had a Fun Day sponge-toss which proved very profitable.

Both fall and spring cabinets worked to promote friendships which will last through the years after graduation. Gold ties were chosen by the fall cabinet, and the theme "Friendship" guided them in planning activities. Freshman girls were greeted by their senior sisters at the Freshman Reception, "A Hunting We Will Go." The theme of the semi-annual fashion show was "Town and Country." A cake sale and Christmas party for the special class at Porter school ended the term most successfully.

After selecting pink and blue plaid ties, the spring cabinet presented their Freshman Reception, "High Land." Students viewed the fashion show "Traveling in Style," and a student meeting was sponsored.

The Chemistry Club had a rewarding year; at the monthly meetings members enjoyed student and teacher demonstrations of scientific experiments.

ROTC Participates In Competition

The Non Commissioned Officers Club worked this year to make the Military Ball a great success; a noon movie brought enjoyment to the students and revenue to the club. Non Coms played a most important part in the annual competition and federal inspection during the spring semester.

The Sword and Shield Society is composed of ROTC commissioned officers and their sponsors or associate members. The Military Ball, "Winter World," was held; in May members participated in the annual competition and federal inspection, and in June held their tour of Golden Gate Park.

Sub Debs Encourage Charity Work

This year will be a truly memorable one for the members of Sub Debs; their dance "Snowbound" was most successful. Sub Debs held a "Mother and Daughter" meeting to give the mothers an opportunity to view the girls at work in a business meeting. During the spring semester the girls presented "Spaghetti Rag." This past year found Sub Deb members active in charity work: they contributed to the fund for relief of flood victims and made cloth dolls to be given to a children's charity.

Betonians Spend Prosperous, Active Year

Betonian members began the past year with a fun-filled picnic and swimming party at Lake Temescal. As one of their charity activities, Betonians brought Christmas joy to a needy Alameda family. To close the fall semester they held an open dance, "China Night," at the Encinal Yacht Club. During the spring term Betonians presented their second dance of the year, which was as wonderful a night as was the fall dance. Club members engaged in several charity projects, and worked harmoniously.

Low Freshman Asset To High School Life

TOP: President of the Student Body Dan Lubbock speaks to the Freshman class at their first political convention. BOTTOM: The officers of the Low Freshman class conduct an interesting class meeting.

Alameda High welcomes with utmost pride the class of February 1960. The class entered right into the spirit of high school by conducting a political campaign. This gave the candidates, running for offices, a chance to be met by the voters. An election was held, and the results were as follows: Reed Jones, president; Marcia Nason, vice-president; Mary White, financial secretary; Walt Cannady, recording secretary; and Judy Ingeman, yell leader. These new freshmen shoulder the fun and work of high school life so enthusiastically that they will undoubtedly be long remembered. Although the newcomers number few, they are capable of many achievements and will realize that study besides fun makes for a better high school community. The whole school welcomes them.

IB Class Has Entertaining Class Meeting

We entered the portals of Alameda High last fall, mystified and uncertain as to what to expect as freshmen. Our views changed as we got into the spirit of Alameda by electing class officers with Jim Rideout as president, thereby getting off to a good start.

Our noon dance was a social and a financial success. At a class meeting we discovered talent in members of the class—all kinds of talent.

During our 1B term we elected Tom Henderson as our president. He has been ably assisted by Bill Santos, recording secretary; Steve Hughett, vice-president; Sue Jelavich, financial secretary; and Debbie White yell, leader.

Our entertaining class meeting was held in early April. This energetic class surely is an asset to Alameda High and is expected to produce many leaders.

Students at a noon dance take time out to hold a discussion.

Cup Cake Sale Brings 2A Class Into A.H.S. Spirit

Wearing the latest styles in aprons, we made cup-cakes for the grand sale in our 1B term, which made us quite a sum of money. Our president, Stuart Stephens, conducted a class meeting last fall which was well received by all attending. We certainly noticed how talented our class was, as indicated by the many fine presentations at this meeting.

As low Sophomores we had two more excellent class meetings. Our recently elected president was Linda Spector. We presented a terrific noon dance. This was a popular event for all Alameda High students but was particularly enjoyed by 2A's.

We are now anxiously awaiting our first big social event, the Soph Hop. Plans are already in the cauldron to make this an historical event for all Alameda High students to remember.

2B Class Has Successful Noon Dance

Students of all classes enjoy the Soph Hop presented semi-annually by the 2B class.

An enjoyable noon dance was the most important social function held in our 2A term. Its very appropriate theme for the fall season was "Autumn Leaves." The affair drew a good part of the student body and many favorable comments from all.

We had two class meetings. The first included excellent student entertainment. A political convention was held later, where candidates running for class offices were introduced by our president, Betty Rankin. It was a good exercise in democracy.

During the past semester our class, ably led by President Terry Thelan, spent many tedious hours preparing one of the greatest Soph Hops. The decorations were unusual, and the bids were so handsome that none will forget that memorable dance, managed and co-managed by Chris Jensen and Sue Delventhal, respectively.

2B Class Breaks All Soph Hop Records

Barbara Peterson and Joan Halkett discuss the bid for their Soph Hop.

As high sophomores the class of February, 1958, gave its stupendous Soph Hop "The Unexpected." The affair was capably managed by Wayne Stanley and Sue Church. The committee heads were Kathy Brown and Huston Marlowe, publicity; Joan Halkett and Barbara Peterson, bids; Judie Hines and Rich Blunden, skit; Gary Farwell, decorations; Ethelyn Jenkins, music; Sue Anderson, reception; Connie Stagnaro, refreshments. This hard-working class presented an unforgettable dance that broke all attendance records. President Don Bell and his cabinet helped make this term an outstandingly successful one.

The class meeting in the spring term, under the supervision of Rich Mutch, was unusually enjoyable. Next semester's Junior Prom is sure to be fabulous with this splendid class behind it.

High Juniors, adorned in Junior sweaters, enjoy student meetings.

As low Juniors, we, the class of June, 1957, had a colossal meeting. Under the leadership of our very able cabinet, we decided on having class cards on which to write all of our school activities until we graduate. This was a very novel advancement.

We also sold programs at the Alameda-Berkeley football game. These projects, from a financial standpoint, were eminently successful.

Carol Shumaker and Ann Russum were elected Junior Sweater chairmen. "Chukker" was the color we chose, with V-necks for the girls and cardigans for the boys. We made quite an impressive appearance.

During the past term we've witnessed some exceptionally good meetings. Our Junior Prom, "Blue Mirage," was ably managed by Sue Reed and Bob Scholz. The committee heads and this hard-working class made it a fabulous and sensational diversion.

We are now busily preparing for the big event next facing us, the Senior Play. We have only one year to go, and we're expectantly awaiting it.

In the far-off days of 1953 a brisk February morning saw us shuffling into the auditorium; Chuck Morehouse served as our first president.

June found us with some money on the credit side of the ledger thanks to a noon dance.

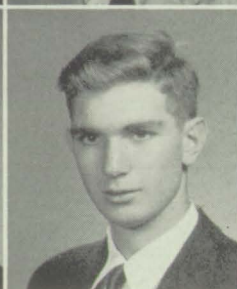

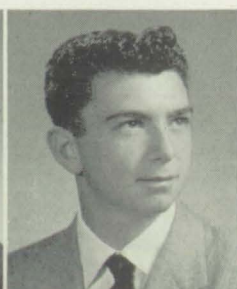

The high freshman term featured Robert Reeves in the leading role. During his term of office we had another noon dance for which the Moderns played without compensation; it was a profitable venture.

Doug Millett was at the helm when Fun Day rolled around in our 2A term. Our coke concession, managed by Carol Torpey and Judy Soderlund, was very successful; we sold every single bottle.

We pulled into the 2B term with Bud Cronenwett heading the administration. Our Sophomore Hop, "Highland Fling," established a new record in bid sales. The festive event was most ably managed by Jim Burress and Judy Soderlund.

Mike Prado sat in the presidential chair throughout our low junior term. We had a cup cake sale and banked the proceeds, as per our custom.

As high juniors under Steve Hooper we were confronted with our biggest social event since entering high school. Under the leadership of Jim Aitchison and his co-manager Nancy Lipka, the class labored long and arduously before "Fire and Ice," our Junior Prom, was held on the 18th of November. The Junior Sweater Committee was ably managed by Earl Hamlin and Anne Teeter; color selected was aqua.

Glen Harradine was 4A president. Under his leadership, other 4A activities were held. The Senior play, "January Thaw," drew an enthusiastic audience. Cast included Chuck Morehouse, Jeanette Justin, Kathi Phillips, Doug Healey, Nancy Lipka, Lyn Stormer, Sue Hansen, Len Nikolai, Rich Jacob, Pat Maydole, Doug Millett, Bud Cronenwett, and Earl Hamlin. Steve Hooper and Carol Torpey were manager and co-manager for the well-received play.

We are waiting expectantly for next fall when we shall have other senior activities such as Senior Ball, Senior Picnic, Senior Banquet, Baccalaureate services, and Graduation.

As low freshmen we, the class of June '56, entered school with an active and cooperative spirit, exemplified by the success of our noon dance, "Frosh Frolic." Dean Sagen, with the rest of our cabinet, capably led the class as our first president.

Our high freshman year, captained by Dino Barbis, increased our prestige. We made our own class cards, as we did throughout our remaining years. We held our 1B movie, for which we economically printed our own tickets. We're money makers.

While low sophomores we came up with a new way of making money; we made and sold programs at the Alameda vs. Berkeley football game. We were led by Dan Lubbock. As high sophomores the traditional Soph Hop came into view; for it we selected the name "Bandwagon." It was capably managed by Dan Lubbock and Carol Kavanaugh, and committees were headed by Cheryl Axtell, Judy Grimshaw, Dave Orton, Diana Twist, Dave Middlesworth, and Ron Dahl. Our president this term was Glen Vivion.

We became upper classmen; under the leadership of Dan Lubbock we sold programs at a football game. Dave Middlesworth and Marie DeVries were elected Junior Sweater managers—royal blue was the color chosen. Headed by Ron Dahl, the high junior class turned out one of the most outstanding social events of the term, the Junior Prom. We decided upon "Nite on the Nile" as the name and Bill Mowery and Carol Duncan as managers. Outstanding decorations, bids, and skit were the result of cooperative efforts of committee heads who were Margie Luther, Cheryl Axtell, Mike Hunter, Iris Newell, Carol Johnson, Carol Reed, Deane Saler, and Dean Sagen.

Sparked by our bright red Senior Jackets and Sweaters, managed by Jerry Healy and Rachel Fraige, and led by President Ron Dahl, we successfully held our Senior ball, Senior picnic, and Senior meeting. With these events we close the most enjoyable years of our lives. With the help of all our teachers and friends, we are ready to advance into the future.

In Memoriam

GORDON WATT — 1894-1955

There are men who walk upon this earth who value honesty, integrity, moral and spiritual values and human understanding above material reward. Gordon Watt was one of these. A master teacher, with a desire for perfection, modest, with a quiet humor, Gordon unconsciously elicited the respect and admiration of those around him. During his many years of service at Alameda High School, he enriched the lives of his students, his advisees, and his colleagues.

MARGERY GLASS WEISENBORN — 1890-1955

This year, those of us who knew and loved Mrs. Weisenborn, often recall her many contributions to the lives of the young people of Alameda. Margery Glass Weisenborn was a vital member of our foreign language department. She graduated from the University of California where she was a leader in student activities and came to Alameda High School where she established an enviable reputation in her field. Though suffering for many years, she bore her afflictions with courage and fortitude and was an inspiration to all young people who worked under her inspiring guidance.

ISABEL VENARD — 1886-1955

The former pupils of Miss Isabel Venard recall her kindly advice and her quiet but firm exhortations to better things. The problems of a student under her supervision became her own personal problems and she gave thoughtful assistance to each one. The former students also attest to the great kindness with which she led them along the paths of learning. However, they most often recall and mention the awareness she gave them of their own personal worth. Miss Venard's former co-workers remember affectionately her cheery words of encouragement as she assisted with any task. She devoted herself entirely to the welfare of the school and of her classes.
